

Pre-Arranged Funeral Services

If the services were pre-arranged and paid for in advance, we will arrange for the direct transfer of the funds. Payment for any items of service or merchandise ordered at the time of the service (not covered under the pre-arranged contract) are due directly from the responsible party or parties.

Funeral pre-arrangement is a normal and wise part of estate planning. Many people, after having had a funeral in their family, will choose to arrange their own service in advance of need. This provides peace of mind that all plans will be carried out according to the wishes of the individual and family. Most people, also choose to pre-pay the services and merchandise, guaranteeing the future cost will never increase. Twiford Funeral Home in Virginia offers burial insurance through Fortis Family. If you are interested in information about funeral planning, please let us know.